14. The membership card is strictly personal. Members are not allowed to share their membership card with a third party. Accordingly, it may not be sold or loaned to anyone else. In this event, all the rewards and/or benefits accumulated shall be automatically forfeited without further notice and the Members shall not be entitled to any compensation whatsoever.
23. ICR may terminate the membership if: Member breaches these Terms and Conditions or ICR regulations; attempts to obtain awards or benefits by providing false information or in any other improper or abusive way; or behaves unruly. Upon termination of a membership, any rewards, benefits, or promotions shall be considered expired, and the former Members shall not be entitled to any compensation whatsoever.
24. Points are redeemed in a FIFO (first in first out) method. Under the FIFO method, point redemptions are tied to the earliest points earned by a Member that have not been redeemed. All points in an account that have not been redeemed within a period that is not less than 12 months shall be expired and removed. Expiration of points usually takes place at the end of the calendar year. The above period will be reviewed periodically at the sole discretion of ICR. Bonus points may have a different expiration period. If there is not at least one gaming record within the last 365 consecutive days in the Member's account, then all rewards and other benefits may also expire, however other special conditions may apply.
25. Gifts, the number of points required for each gift, as well as the number of points earned per value of bet are set by ICR which reserves the right to change and modify these numbers and the gifts themselves without the consent of the undersigned. ICR may set different point ratios per value of the bet at gaming machines and at table games, depending on the type of game, the position of the gaming machine, the minimum bet, or the time or day of participation. The same applies for table games. ICR also may set different number of points to be won at gaming machines and table games per tier. New criteria may be added to already existing ones depending on the capabilities of the computerised system.

26. ICR might exclude Members from collecting points, offers, benefits and promotions when those Members participate in special programmes that have been agreed either with them individually or their representatives.
27. ICR reserves the absolute right to exclude Melco Club members from promotional activities or terminate their Melco Club membership or deduct the points from their account if they fail to show up on the date of a confirmed accommodation booking ("No-Show") under ICR's Hotel Room Stays offers, subject to the Terms and Conditions of each offer. Members must cancel or reschedule their reservations in a timely manner to avoid any of the abovementioned consequences in case of a No-Show.
28. Gifts may, among others, be items, gift vouchers, tickets in other promotional programmes, Free Play, additional points, provisions, or services and other complementaries. The point redemption ratio is determined on a case-by-case basis and is not directly or indirectly related to the value of the gifts. It is at the discretion of ICR to determine which gifts are available and when they can be redeemed as well as to set a maximum daily limit on the redemption of points per gift or tier, collectively or per Member. ICR also has the right to set a limit of points the Member should have collected in his/her account.
29. Criteria, provisions, access right to areas, privileges and services per tier and any changes thereto may be announced by MC or ICR in a printed or digital form and in advertising material. From time to time these are personalised and are communicated exclusively to the concerned party.
30. Some privileges and services are offered by third parties, who have entered contracts with ICR. ICR bears no responsibility in case the third-party refuses to offer the promised services and privileges and the Member shall not be entitled to any compensation whatsoever.
31. The Members can redeem their points and receive their gifts and services at ICR's casino premises and in some instances outside the casino premises at a place and time set by ICR or a third party. Redeemed points are subtracted from the total number of points collected up to the time of redemption. It may not be possible for redeemed points to be returned if a Member changes their mind later. Faulty gifts, items may be exchanged within a dedicated time frame and the points used to redeem these will be debited to Member's point balance. Members might be required to demonstrate valid identification document and to sign a gift receipt document at the redemption point.
32. It is in ICR's absolute discretion to determine, change or amend the terms and conditions for upgrading, downgrading, and renewing the tier and/or the type of card issued to the Member without prior notice and/or assigning any reasons to the Members. Participants in the MC programme gain access and are admitted to the respective tier by the decision of ICR. Similarly, participants in the programme change tier in accordance with decision of ICR; prior notice to the Member is not required. The criteria for the categorisation/tiering of Members may include, without limitation, the number of visits of the client during a specific period or the number of points they have collected in a specific number of active gaming visits, or a combination thereof. All privileges and provisions, as well as the criteria for admission to each tier are determined exclusively by ICR, who reserves the right to change, alter or even revoke them, if it deems appropriate, without the consent of the Member.
33. If a Member meets the criteria for a tier upgrade, ICR may invite via MC's communication channels the Member to participate in a trial assessment period, or may even reject this upgrade without prior notice to the Member and/or explanation for the reasons behind this decision. Similarly, in the case of a downgrade of a Member, ICR may invite a Member to participate in a trial assessment period before it proceeds to the said downgrading.
34. In certain tiers or cases, the upgrade and downgrade procedure may be carried out automatically without a notice to the Member.
35. Apart from the above-mentioned general tiers, there may be other tiers or even sub-tiers of Members, which ICR may create or cancel, if it deems appropriate.
36. ICR at its sole discretion may create and deliver an "honorary Members" card (or even use an existing membership club card from a specific tier) to a restricted number of Members to use that card as normal; however, they may also enjoy some additional privileges other than the actual related to their gaming activity and tier. While the type of physical card usually is associated with the actual tier benefits, in this case the rule does not apply as the "honorary Members" will not have access to all tier benefits related to their physical card, however they will be able to enjoy all benefits associated with their actual tier they belong to.

37. ICR shall not be liable for rewards and/or benefits which accumulate inaccurately as a result of a technical malfunction, operator fault, misrepresentation or any reason beyond the control of ICR. ICR is not responsible for any loss of points that were not collected during a game due to the incorrect use of the card, malfunction of the reader card or damage thereto or due to an interruption of the communication with the computerised system. It is the Member's responsibility to inform employees of ICR of any malfunction of the card reader or damage thereto that may result in the point collection card being denied.
38. The Member may initially only have one account in the computerised system, connected to a single Member's card. Upon request of the Member, providing the computerised system offers that capability the ICR may create more than one card connected to the same account for a limited number of Members. ICR reserves the right to cancel any additional card created.
39. The right on the collected points cannot be transferred or inherited.
40. Points are accumulated in an integer and not decimal form.
41. Some of the tiers might offer their respective Members the opportunity - but not the right - to enter (with the authorisation of the Management) the Platinum Club private gaming area along with a specific number of guests and to enjoy the privileges and services available in that room. Entrance to the Platinum Club private gaming area, is only permitted by prior permission or invitation of ICR; furthermore, entry in the private gaming area, constitutes an acceptance of the specific Terms and Conditions, as described herein. A Member's frequent entry in the "private gaming area does not constitute a right of entry to that area at will, since permission has to be granted prior to each entry from ICR. ICR reserves the right to refuse entry to Platinum Club private gaming area, at its discretion, without explaining the reasons for that decision and any person who fails to comply with instructions from an ICR employee or person acting on behalf of ICR may be banned temporarily or permanently from entering into any of ICR's casino premises.
42. ICR may replace lost or stolen cards at its sole discretion. ICR reserves the right to charge a fee for replacement of membership cards in a form of points and/or monetary value.
43. The Card is the property of ICR and must be returned unconditionally and immediately upon request.
44. ICR has the right and is authorised by the Member to, at any time and at its sole discretion, terminate, change, or amend all or any of these Terms and Conditions. The Member's continued use of the MC card or participation in the MC loyalty programme will constitute the Member's acceptance of the Terms and Conditions and any amendment thereof.
45. Any person who fails to comply with ICR's Rules (including without limitation the house rules), regulations or instructions may be temporarily or permanently banned from ICR's casinos.
46. Nothing contained herein shall be interpreted as an obligation of ICR to make available any particular rewards, benefits or promotions.
